

Your private conference cloud

Unparalleled performance, agility and resilience that exceeds your custom conferencing requirements

Imagine having your own private conference cloud

Our world class architecture and proprietary technology allows us to provide our clients with the opportunity to have a truly unique and customised conference call service that allows them to have the highest quality and call resilience.

Long gone are the days of performance issues or having to worry about ring fenced capacity. Our completely unique and highly scalable architecture allows you to meet growing business demands as you require it.

At our core, we believe that our clients deserve to have a conference call service that truly works for them and empowers the unique ways that they do business.

Our private conference cloud allows you to request important integrations, change processes, build new features or create custom room types so that you can meet your specific business needs.

How do you benefit?

Personalised experiences

Build a truly personalised conference call experience with branded audio messages, custom prompts and more

Make it work for your teams

Add new features, or request modifications, integrations and upgrades that will make your business work more efficiently

Resilience and security

Feel safe in the knowledge that all aspects of your personal conference cloud will only be used by your business

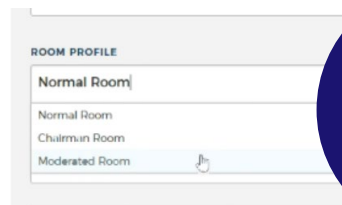

Remove connection issues

Unlike other providers that have a single node that routes your calls, our solution can intelligently route your call based on caller behaviours ensuring a high-quality participant experience

Custom room types

We know that it can be frustrating selecting specific room configurations for your conference calls. With our custom solution you can reduce human error and improve user efficiency with your own unique room profiles that are given naming conventions that will work for your organisation.

Choose and create your own room type that suits your organisation

Custom call experiences

From your own custom bridge welcome message through to specific IVR. We will work with you to create a truly customised conference call experience that will ensure that you can get the most out of your tools.

Personalised emails

Your brand voice is important to you, that's why we offer some of our enterprise clients the opportunity to make adjustments to the email invitations to their participants. Allowing them to start their next conference call on their own terms.

Clever integrations

Because we own our technology and have a dedicated development team, we can be flexible when it comes to adding new functions and integrations that enhance your existing processes.

Custom reporting

If you have specific requirements for the types of reports that you and your teams need in order to ensure an optimum return on your investment – just let us know.

Use our API to add functionality to your CRM, messaging system and more at the click of a button.

We can work together to create reports that will work for you.

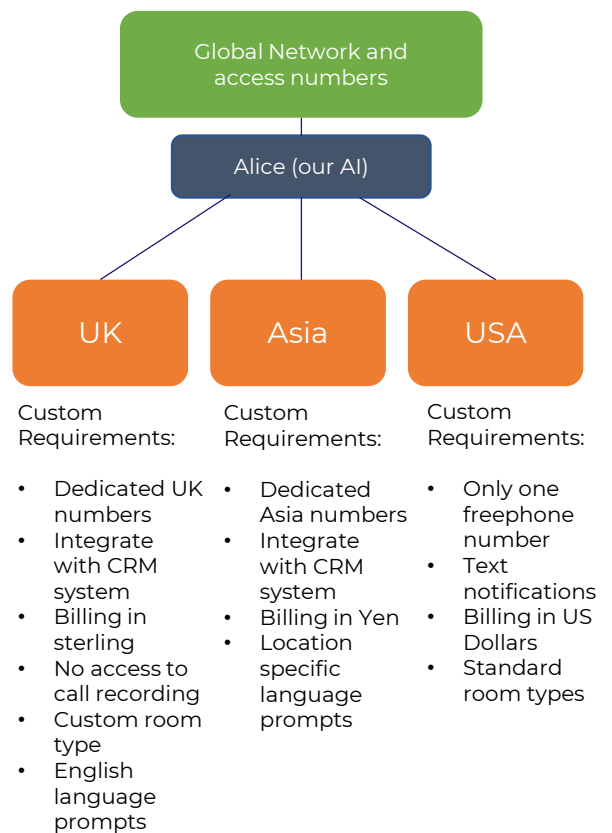

Personalisation across your entire organisation

With our custom solution you can refine every detail of your conference call cloud and adjust specific parts of your experience without affecting other parts of your business.

Because of the architecture we can create an infinite number of instances for each location or business area of your company and adjust these instances as you request.

You may choose to have as many instances as you need or wish to have a specific set of requirements for a part of your business.

The possibilities really are endless with your own private conference cloud.

About Babl

Founded in 2002, Babl are the original pioneers behind the cloud-based conferencing space. Powered by our own technology, we provide professionals with a secure and easy-to-use conference call solution that supports the unique ways that they do business.